DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language; or the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 11-13,15,22,26 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Jones et al. (US 7,347,200).

The Jones reference discloses a medicament dispenser comprising a housing (10,110), a medicament container (20,120), a dose counter with associated sensors (60,160,165), and a means for resisting deposition of contaminants at locations effecting detection (see col. 13, line 60 to col. 14, line 5).

In regard to claim 13 and 28, the constraining shape and size of the outlet (50,150) will contribute at least in part to removal of deposits adjacent the sensors.

In regard to claim 15, the coating itself defines a means for removing, as claimed.

In regard to claim 22, when the container/housing is shaken prior to dispensing meets the claimed means for agitating.

In regard to claim 26, the housing/outlet is certainly sized such that it is inherently capable of being internally wiped/scraped clean by a cloth or finger if deposition is visible by a user .

The applied reference has a common inventor (i.e. Anthony Jones) with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-106 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Claims 14,16-21,23-25,27 and 29 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 1-10 and 30-106 are allowed.
